

INTRODUCING

THE MICHELIN® PILOT® SPORT ALL SEASON⁴ TIRE

This July, Michelin has revealed its newest ultra-high-performance consumer tire, the MICHELIN® Pilot® Sport All Season⁴ tire.

Thanks to the tire's design, improved grip levels come both in dry (with more rubber on the outer shoulder thanks to its Asymmetric Tread Pattern) and wet (360-Degree Variable Sipe Technology) conditions. Additionally, Dynamic Response Technology helps provide a longer tread wear life.

Available to help cover 85 percent of the market and in 105 sizes, the tire goes well beyond passenger cars and light truck into the SUV/CUV market.

The tire fits high-performance vehicles, including:

- Alfa Romeo Giulia
- Audi Q7, A8, S4
- BMW X5
- Chevrolet Corvette C8
- Lexus IS
- Mercedes GLC and AMG C Class
- Range Rover Sport
- Volvo XC90 and XC60
- VW GTI

The MICHELIN® Pilot® Sport All Season⁴ tire has 59 sizes available as of July 1, 2020. An additional 46 sizes will be available in July 2021.

THE MICHELIN® PILOT® TRACK-TO-STREET CONNECTION

When teams race on IMSA's North American racetracks, they rely on MICHELIN® Pilot® Sport race tires to provide the efficiency and performance their vehicle demands. At Michelin, what has been designed, developed and proven for competition goes directly into our performance street tires.

The unmatched MICHELIN® Pilot® family of tires is a tire of choice for many high-performance vehicle manufacturers and owners. These tires range from ultra-high-performance summer tires to all-season performance tires. All designed from Michelin's long heritage in motorsports, the Pilot® family of tires can go from the track to the street, delivering consistency to enrich the art of driving.

For more information, check out this Michelin Media release:

